foreword

Here is your ZENITH for 1951! With sincere appreciation for all the help everybody has given, we, your ZENITH Staff, present it to you the students of H.P.C.

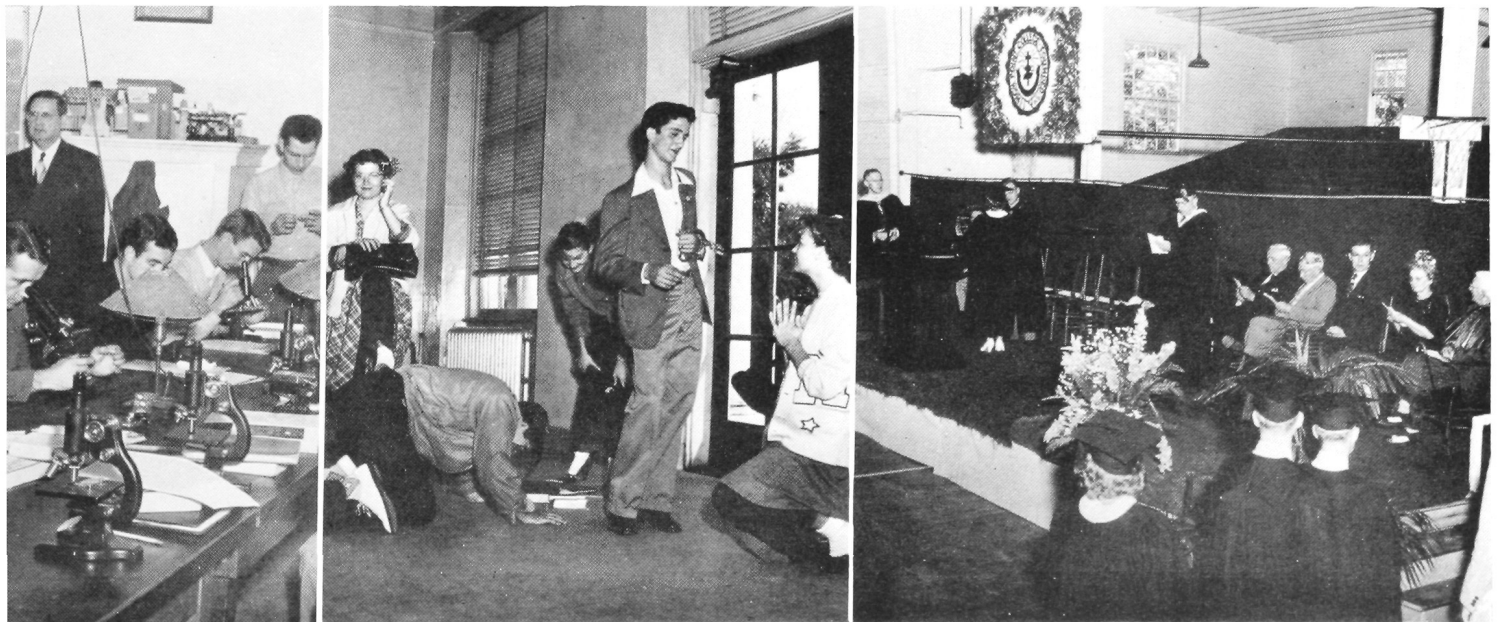

We have had many and varied experiences. Many times we have felt we were "burning the candle at both ends," but always there has been a comic relief to make us gay again. To offset the endless grind of classes, examinations, term papers, and parallel readings, there have been dances, parties, athletic events, and care-free hours spent in the book store.

In this book are the fruits of our honest endeavor to present all these manifold aspects of life on our campus. Our hope is that you will retain only those memories which bring a sense of well-being; a realization of a job well done. It is the sincere desire of the staff that you will find recaptured in these pages experiences which have been a memorable part of your life during the past year at H.P.C.

dedication

To Dean Allred whose friendliness, cheerfulness, leadership, and character have been ingrained in the progress of High Point College since its beginning, the staff dedicates the ZENITH of 1951 as a token of sincere appreciation for the time he has given unstintedly, as well as the ideas and inspiration through which he spurred students ever forward to new and greater fields of service.

To the members of the senior class the close of these years of college instruction should not bring an end of learning and growing. Rather, beyond these years there lie wider and ever-expanding horizons for those who desire to continue to develop their powers. Theirs are the great chances, the enlarged opportunities; theirs is the ability to make a better life not only for themselves, but also for future generations.

Looking back on our past three years, we, the Junior Class, observe with some pride and much gratitude the milestones of development in character, personality, and intellect. Wise men build the present magnanimously in order to cope with the future more adequately and intelligently. We trust we do not strive with selfish aims for a greater superiority as individuals and as a class, but that we seek this achievement in order to become better citizens, counsellors, teachers, doctors, lawyers, and ministers. Through the attainment of such a goal as this we hope to help bring the world closer to peace and harmony. Therefore with this resolution and determination we turn to our senior year with anticipation and hope.

To be chosen a marshal at High Point College is one of the highest honors which can be bestowed upon a member of the student body. Congratulations are due these students, but appreciation is also due for a job well done. They have faithfully and willingly checked and recorded assembly attendance, acted as ushers for all programs and music recitals, and will complete their year of service by seating commencement participants. Theirs has been important work and they are to be commended for their achievement.

We are the sophomores. This year we became aware of our importance to High Point College. Now, burning with many unrealized ambitions, we impatiently await next year. For two years we broadened our social outlook, and fitted ourselves into our places, but now we are a very definite part of High Point College and are ready to become sober upperclassmen, conscientiously taking an active role in aiding the progress of our college.

For us the orientation into college life is over, and we gladly leave that experience for the incoming Freshmen. We, as potential sophomores, now understand that college is not entirely a social whirl. When we entered college, we thought we held the whole world in the palm of our hands, but now we look with open-mouthed astonishment on learning. We have a reverence for knowledge that was never ours before. Eagerly and anxiously we look forward to the new experiences that undoubtedly will be ours.

EDWIN AUMAN
President

One of the forces behind the wheel of progress at High Point College this year has been the Student Government. Under the able leadership of Edwin Auman and the executive council, much has been done to promote and maintain a true college spirit on the campus.

The events of the homecoming weekend were most prominent, but success has been attained in all activities sponsored by the Student Council. This has been due to a unified student body, a coöperative administration, and a hard-working group of believers in the Democracy known as our Student Government.

After taking 644 pictures, not counting retakes . . . sending 20 S.O.S. telegrams to our Raleigh publishers . . . erasing each page at least three times, making a total of 312 pages . . . and climbing 2,342 stairs (our office is in the attic of the library) . . . your ZENITH staff has miraculously completed the yearbook. It is with indescribable relief and not a small amount of pride that we give it to you.

You have here the combined efforts of many people: of Pat McNeill, who created our scholarly panther; of Greg Merhige, who ferreted sports pictures from every known source; of Betsy Baker, Wayne Shelton, Janie Bartlett, and others who wrote copy, corrected it and rewrote it; of Joyce Layton, Doris Nance, Wanda Wilson, Lib Early, and Gloria Miller who typed into the wee hours and then joked about their slavery; of Don Helms, Dot Stone, and George Erath, who photographed and catalogued pictures anywhere, anytime; and of Bob McKenzie who was general handyman and idea creator.

business staff

Of course, the power behind the scene is the Business Staff, and this year, headed by Edwin Auman and Betty Jane Gibbs, they have done a difficult job with incredible ease and efficiency. We can never adequately express our gratitude to our co-workers for financially supporting our expensive ideas.

These pages fortunately do not show the headaches and despair that accompanied their conception. The headaches were not limited to the regular staffs, but completely innocent bystanders were caught up in the last frantic attempt to make the deadline.

This is your annual and we present it to you with the desire that you, in the coming years, may glance through it—recapturing memories and feeling that the 1951 edition of the ZENITH has carried you back, if only for a little while, to your days at High Point College.

The policy of the Hi-Po, since its first edition, has been that of providing the students with an unbiased picture of happenings of interest on the campus. Criticisms of a constructive nature have been encouraged and have proved a factor in promoting a greater unity of purpose and coöperation among students and faculty.

sports parade of 1950 and 1951

When the final whistle blew last fall, it marked the end of another football season. It also marked the end of an era. Football was finished at High Point. No longer would High Point defend its colors on the gridiron. Some people greeted with indifference and lack of interest, the announcement that the college had decided to drop football from the sports curriculum. To many others, students and townspeople alike, it brought forth a storm of protest. True, High Point College football in the past few seasons was not the brand one could brag about. The number of wins were a pittance when compared to the many defeats suffered. However, football—and even losing football—imparts something beneficial to a college. The word is spirit. That spirit was evident if you watched the fans pulling for the Panthers, game after game. Yes, they left the stadium cussing another defeat and on Sunday morning quarter-backing pointed out a host of coach and player errors. But those fans, those same fans, rose to their feet and cheered the following week, when Loyd or Hotis ran the ball deep into enemy territory.

A standard joke is to say of a losing team, "Well anyway, their coach built a lot of character." Looking at the Panther's '50 record, it would be easy to theorize in that vein. One victory in eight games can't be written off as a successful season.

But let's look at the situation from another view-point. Last fall a new coach took up the reins with the hope of doing better than his predecessor. C. Q., "Tex," Smith and his capable assistant, Bob Davis had their work cut out for them. Coach Smith brought with him the "T" formation—a departure from the accustomed single wing formation with which last year's squad was familiar. He was also handicapped by the lack of depth in most positions. To off-set this lack of reserves, he stressed and maintained good physical condition of the squad throughout the season. This helped to keep injuries at a minimum, but those injuries that did occur were costly to the strength of the squad. It was a costly loss when Max Morgan hurt his shoulder; also on the injury list was E. Ray Burleson and Dave Cheadle.

Looking back over the past season are many highlights. First of all the squad had to hustle and fight. It is easy for a winning club to display these characteristics, but it takes guts and determination to give your best when the scoreboard is hopelessly against you. Our guys kept plugging all the way even though they were getting their lumps. The other teams were a little too strong for them, they had the reserves that told in the end. Our team was still in the ball game during the first half, but they began to fade in the latter part of the game when the opponent reserve strength wore us down.

The Purple and White ended its football career this year with a losing club, but one that will always be respected. Not only did the college end its gridiron career, but so did some of the High Point greats, such as hard battling fullback, Bill Loyd. Once again "Bolting" Bill took the honor of being picked all-conference for his third straight year. Along with Bill, many other members bow out of the football spotlight; Bill's co-captain, Max Morgan, tops in the records as a Panther scrapper who kept the squad on the hustle and instilled the old Panther spirit in the boys. There could have been no better choice of co-captains than Loyd and Morgan. Don Hooper, who was picked on the all-conference second team and regarded among his team mates as one of the hardest players on the club, made his last year his best year. Powerful guards such as E. Ray Burleson and Curt "Butterball" Bovender will also go down in the records with the High Point greats. Seat-backs such as Mobley, Gordon, Hotis, and Smith will be in our memory books for a long time to come. The sight of Crews or Grissom fading back for one of their deadly aerials will be remembered by many High Point fans and not a few of our opponents. Lineman like Yarborough, Fisher, Mixon, Kimball, and Casey brought many a cheer to the throats of Panther fans.

With the close of this our last football season, the Class of 1951 takes its hat off to team and coaches. We were proud of our team, win, lose, or draw. Our only regret is that in the near future, we will be unable to avenge some of our defeats.

The curtain now rises on the hardwoods of the Harrison Gymnasium to find Coach Smith and Davis once again stressing tip-top conditioning to their "Panthers" and "Kittens" alike.

As we go to press the season is in its infancy with the team just overflowing with talent. The Panthers face many great schools as the Generals of Washington and Lee, Western Kentucky, which, by the way, was rated the number one team of the nation in 1948, Evansville, Indiana, and many others. Facing teams of this caliber one must have a team in order to step out onto the floor.

With boys such as Big Ed Sueta hooking from the key, Gray Cartwright play making, Cool Bob Draper rebounding, Bill Waiz and Jesse Joyce both capable of hitting the cards for double figures, we're sure we have that worthy team.

Many times it has been stated that a club is just as good as its reserves, and we can say with pride that we have these reserves right down the line. Coach Smith follows the famous theory of Clair Bee, that if a man is good enough for a uniform, he's good enough to see action. So the little hustler and hawk-eye Bob Davidson will be doing his part in adding to the string victories of the Panthers. Along with Bob there will be Conrad West, who can be counted on to hit the scoring column, easy going Sam Cole, aggressive Tony Lisk, rebounder, Duncan Redditt, and the ever-hustling Paul Pryor.

With the daily drills, blisters, and sore feet, the boys are working hard and improving each day. We feel confident as the season rolls on that we shall have one of the top teams in the conference, if not the number one team.

When the curtain falls at the end of the season and the whistle blows, High Point College will add another victory to its records and we shall all once again take off our hats to another great team.

In keeping with the progressive athletic department at High Point College the Women's Athletic Association expanded its activities to include an intramural program for girls this year. Competition was offered in speedball, volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, badminton, ping-pong, archery, and shuffle-board. The girls were greatly interested in this program, and it is hoped it will be even more successful in years to come.

The officers of the WAA for this year were: President, Laura Mae DeHaven; Vice-President, Patricia Kay McCulloch; Secretary, Reba Wright; Treasurer, Mary Lee Richardson; Publicity Manager, Ann Hendrix; Adviser, Miss Ellen Philbeck.

WHAT MAKES A CHAMPION ATHLETE?

IS IT CONDITIONING. . . . coaching . . . teamwork . . . physique . . . sportsmanship . . . competitive spirit . . . or just plain honest-to-goodness athletic skill?

We don't pretend to be athletic experts, because our job is to manufacture high quality textile products. But as sporting fans we think it would be safe to say that an athletic champion is the result of all these fine qualities.

We know that it has taken a combination of great leadership, manufacturing know-how, careful planning, employee loyalty, and skilled teamwork to make Burlington Mills a champion in the textile industry. The Company's many accomplishments and progressive growth during the past 27 years are well known. We are proud of this record and equally proud of our 32,500 employees who have worked together with real team spirit as members of the Burlington team.

It's a fact that Burlington's fine fabrics, hosiery and other textile products are truly "Woven Into the Life of America"—just as every Burlington plant is woven into the life of its own community.
